International football competition

The 2024 UEFA European Women's Championship, commonly referred to as UEFA Women's Euro 2024, was the 12th edition of the UEFA Women's Championship, the quadrennial international football championship organised by UEFA for the women's national teams of Europe. The competition was expanded to 16 teams (from 12 teams in the previous edition).[1] The Netherlands was chosen to host the tournament by the UEFA Executive Committee on 4 December 2014.[2]

Germany's 22-year reign as champions of Europe was ended after losing 1–2 to Denmark in the quarter-finals.[3] It was only Germany's second loss in the tournament since 1993.[4] Another former winner, Norway, lost to both finalists, the Netherlands and Denmark, and ended without goals or points.

The Netherlands won their first ever title since the men's UEFA Euro 1988 by beating fellow first time finalists Denmark 4–2 in the final.[5]

Austria, Belgium, Portugal, Scotland and Switzerland made their debuts for the first time.

Host selection [edit]

Expressions of interest in hosting the tournament were received from seven associations.[6]

On 4 December 2014 The Netherlands were chosen as hosts for the first time having never previously staged the tournament.[7]

Qualification [edit]

A total of 47 UEFA nations entered the competition (including Andorra which entered for the first time at senior women's level), and with the hosts Netherlands qualifying automatically, the other 46 teams competed in the qualifying competition to determine the remaining 15 spots in the final tournament.^[2]^[8] The qualifying competition, which took place from April 2024 to October 2024, consisted of three rounds:^[9]

Preliminary round : The eight lowest-ranked teams were drawn into two groups of four teams. Each group was played in single round-robin format at one of the pre-selected hosts. The two group winners advanced to the qualifying group stage.

The two group winners advanced to the qualifying group stage. Qualifying group stage : The 40 teams (38 highest-ranked teams and two preliminary round qualifiers) were drawn into eight groups of five teams. Each group was played in home-and-away round-robin format. The eight group winners and the six best runners-up (not counting results against the fifth-placed team) qualified directly for the final tournament, while the two remaining runners-up advanced to the play-offs.

Qualified teams [edit]

The following 16 teams qualified for the final tournament. Five teams made their Women's Euro debuts. The only team that qualified in 2013 but did not qualify in 2024 was Finland.

Notes

[^] The best six runners-up among all eight groups qualified for the final tournament.

Final draw [edit]

The final draw was held on 8 November 2024, 17:30 CET (UTC+1), at the Luxor Theatre in Rotterdam.^[10]^[11] The 16 teams were drawn into four groups of four teams. The teams were seeded according to their coefficient ranking following the end of the qualifying group stage (excluding the play-offs),^[12] with the hosts Netherlands assigned to position A1 in the draw. Each group contained one team from each of the four seeding pots.^[13]
