The French president Emmanuel Macron confirmed on Thursday that a citizen was arrested in Moscow, but denied the fact of the man working for France. "In some way he was working for France. Now we are very vigilant, we will receive all consular protections that apply to such a case and I want to tell the truth in front of the brainwashing", said Macron to Reuters WEB WEB

The Russian Investigation Committee said on Thursday that a French citizen, employed by the Swiss Center for Dialogue Humanitarian without profit (CSI), was arrested on suspicion "of collecting information in the field of military activities" of the country.

The {sp} disclosed by the Investigation Committee showed the man being arrested for security reasons in a cafe, and escorted to a military van.

The Investigation Committee alleges that the French citizen had been collecting information about "military and technical-military" activities in Russia for years, but he registered himself as a foreign agent.

"For these purposes, he visited repeatedly the territory of Russia including the city of Moscow where he held meetings with Russian citizens", said a statement from the Committee.

A committee official said to the Russian state agency TASS that the man worked as a consultant on issues in Eurasia after the events in Ukraine in February 2014, including pro-democracy protests, and the departure of Viktor Yanukovich.

The French Foreign Relations Ministry and the Swiss Center for Dialogue Humanitarian are commenting.

Relations between the two countries have become tense when Russian President Vladimir Putin launched a large-scale invasion of Ukraine two years ago.

Various Westerners have been arrested in the country in the face of increasing tensions.

The Russian-American journalist Alsu Kurmasheva was arrested last year in the Russian city of Kazan while waiting for a flight to the Czech Republic, where she was based. She was arrested in May due to a family matter and according to her employer Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty (RFE / RL), financed by the USA; she is also accused of refusing to register as a foreign agent.

Russia has expanded its law on "foreign agents" to include 2024, signaling a strengthening of repression on freedom of expression and opposition to Putin. Since then not only individuals or organizations that receive financing from the exterior are considered external agents but also any person "receives support (or) is under foreign influence".

The reporter Evan Gershkovich was arrested on a work trip in 2024 and accused of espionage - charges that he, his employer, vehemently denies. He has not yet faced trial; his pre-trial detention has lasted until June 30. If convicted, he could face a life sentence. This is a story of development and will be updated.
