PSG defeated Rennes and is in the final of the French Cup

PSG relied on Mbappé's individual quality to defeat Rennes and reach another national final The PSG is in the final of the French Cup. On Wednesday, the Paris team beat Rennes 1-0. Mbappé scored the only goal of the game.

In the final, PSG will face Lyon, who secured their spot by defeating Valenciennes. The game will be at the Stade de France in Paris. The date of the classic has not been announced yet.

That's how the game was

Favorite in the match, PSG didn't waste time and went after Rennes from the first minutes, searching for their goal.

Mbappé, the main name of the attack, took control of the game and tried to break the opponent's marking. In some moments, he had beautiful duels with goalkeeper Mandanda, who turned out to be better.

In the final minutes of the first stage, PSG increased its rhythm and had the chance to open the scoring with a penalty. Mbappé was brought down in the area and the resulting penalty was parried by Mandanda. Shortly afterwards, when the booing echoed through the Parc des Princes, the number 7 made an individual play and scored with a shot that deviated from the defender. In the 45 final minutes, Rennes entered the game and began to pressure PSG. With plays down the flanks, the visitors looked for the aerial ball to disturb. Despite the volume, Donnarumma did not have to make great saves.

With the advantage in their favor, PSG only administered in the final minutes and did not give the opponent any space to create another decisive moment for Mbappé and co.

Ligue 1

With the spot in the French Cup final secured, PSG turns its attention back to Ligue 1. The team led by Luis Enrique is leader and, in the next match, they will face Clermont at home.
