3-Bet Wider from Late Position

Once you have some weight on the felt, you can throw it around a little by 3-betting more frequently, but pay attention to position.

When you have the advantage of position and a deep stack, you want to 3-bet a very wide range of hands. Even if your opponent is holding AK or QQ, they will not be overly enthusiastic about stacking up against you when they are also deep. If you 3-bet a wide range of prospective hands in position, even when our opponent does call, you will find yourself in very good shape.

Against weaker players you can widen your range of 3-bet hands considerably. Any suited court cards will make a fine 3-bet, in position, keeping in mind the table composition and the depth of your stack. You might even start including mid suited connectors and suited aces if you feel confident.

Out of position, more caution is needed. Generally, you want to 3-bet bluff less frequently when your opponents are adapting to the deeper stack sizes. The deeper the stacks, the narrower your all-in range gets – and that makes you more vulnerable to 4-bet bluffs.
