Odds

Sportsbook's overround: 5.88%

Range of bets

N1Bet has superb market choices for players. While there's an excellent choice of sports and eSports, the markets are incredible as well.

There are plenty of prop bets, including handicap bets and in-game betting.

Players can also create parlays, which is an excellent addition. Cashout is also available on some bets, making it easier to get some form of cashback from bets which look like losing.

Live betting

While an excellent crypto casino is open to players, N1Bet doesn't neglect its sports betting options. With incredible market choices, a high-level selection of sports is in place, making it excellent for bettors looking for good value.

N1Bet Sports Betting Odds

With an overround of 5.88%, N1Bet

tends to be an average choice compared to other sportsbooks. Each bet will have slight differences in the overround, but on the whole, players can find value.

Live betting is available with N1Bet. Almost every major event, and a significant proportion of lesser-known events, offer players the opportunity to use in-game betting. However, N1Bet doesn't allow players to stream live events.

The site provides live betting, making watching the event after placing a bet slightly more challenging. The site has live stat updates, which adds some additional context to events, but a sports package is required to watch events along with a bet.

Limits

There are no maximum bet rules in its terms and conditions. However, it also reserves the right to refuse to accept bets at its discretion. So, there is the possibility some bets will hit a maximum threshold for the stake. N1Bet sets its withdrawal limits at R$12,500 per month, but players can increase this limit through the VIP program.

N1Bet eSports

eSports has the most impressive growth in sports at the moment. With significant increases in the number of viewers and all forms of revenue growing, eSports is in an excellent position to become the most popular sport for the new generation.

Tournaments

Individual games and tournaments are available here, ensuring players have a fantastic selection. The only area it falls on is the lack of real sports equivalents. For example, there are no eSoccer or eBasketball betting choices.

Rainbow Six Tournaments

Rainbow Six is one of the old-school first-person shooting games. With a focus on strategy and a more systematic approach, this is the perfect game for players who like a longer-term match with more suspense.

Overwatch

Overwatch is an FPS game, almost the polar opposite of Rainbow Six. It's also a team game but has a faster pace than Rainbow Six. It provides incredible excitement, which explains why it's so popular.

Counter-Strike – Global

Offensive (CS: GO)

For players around the beginning of the online gaming revolution,

CS: GO is the definitive game. Counter-Strike was one of the first games which genuinely took the attention of the mainstream gaming world. It's no surprise it's such a popular game to this day, albeit with some improvements from the original.

Dota

Fast-paced and full of action, Dota 2 is perfect for the eSports betting audience.

There are some excellent betting choices at N1Bet for Dota 2 tournaments, which is ideal for anyone who wants to try betting on this hugely popular game.
