Creation of the European Poker Tour

The poker boom in the early 2000s saw immense growth in televised poker such as the Late Night Poker, the Poker Million and the World Poker

Tour. The European Poker Tour (EPT) was created by John Duthie, winner of the inaugural Poker Million.

EPT Season 1 (2004-05)

The very first EPT was held in Barcelona and was won by Alexander Stevic for €80,000. Stevic would go on to finish third in the inaugural season's Grand Final held at the Monte Carlo Bay Hotel & Resort for €178,000.

The Grand Final was won by the Netherlands' Rob Hollink for €635,000.

There

were seven events in the inaugural season with two British and two Dutch players grabbing titles.

EPT Season 2

(2005-06)

The second season of the EPT also had seven events, with the only change being a switch from Baden to Vienna. Patrik Antonius won the new EPT Baden only two months after winning the Scandinavian Poker Championships.

Meanwhile, there were wins

for both Mark Teltscher and Mads Andersen in their "home" EPTs in London and Copenhagen respectively.

EPT Season 4 (2007-08)

The big names were out in force on Season 4 of the European Poker Tour, with Mike McDonald (pictured), Jason Mercier and Bertrand "ElkY" Gropellier bagging titles. Gropellier won his EPT title at the inaugural PokerStars Caribbean Adventure (PCA) for a coolR$2,000,000.

This season was book-ended by two other seven-figure first prizes with Sander Lyloff winning the season-opening EPT Barcelona (denying Mark Teltscher a second EPT title heads-up), and Glen Chorny winning over €2m in the EPT Grand Final in Monte Carlo.

EPT Season 5 (2008-09)

There was no let-up from the EPT with another

11-event schedule for the fifth season. The EPT record of 1,136 set at the PCA in Season 4 was broken not just by the same event in Season 5, but also by EPT Sanremo.

EPT Season 6 (2009-10)

By Season 6, the EPT had grown to include 13 destinations, the most stops in its history. Many players who would go on to become EPT regulars won titles in Season 6, including Jake Cody and Liv Boeree who would enjoy successful spells as PokerStars Team Pros.

In March 2010, future WSOPE Main Event winner Kevin MacPhee won the EPT Berlin Main Event. However, the festival is notable for the tournament venue being robbed by a group of armed men in the middle of the tournament. Play was suspended for several hours and two weeks later, a suspect surrendered to German authorities.

EPT Season 7 (2010-11)

Season 7

of the EPT would start just like previous seasons, but by the end of the season, the poker world would be rocked by the events of Black Friday in April 2011.

Galen Hall

would win the largest PCA Main Event ever for R$2.3 million, defeating 1,560 players in the process. Future Triple Crown winner Robert Romanello won his EPT title in Season 7 at EPT Prague, while there were three other British champions in the shape of Toby Lewis, David Vamplew and Rupert Elder.

EPT Season 8 (2011-12)

Season 8 was the final season with 13 stops on the calendar. It was also the only time the series visited Greece for EPT Loutraki, and that Campione held an EPT festival.

Davidi Kitai wins EPT

Berlin Main Event

Three Danes picked up EPT honours in as many festivals as Mickey Petersen, Frederik Jensen and Jannick Wrang all won EPT Main Events. This was followed by Davidi Kitai's victory at EPT Berlin, the first by a Belgian on the European Poker Tour. This also marked the only occasion that a player has completed poker's Triple Crown by winning an EPT title. He became the fifth winner of poker's triple crown.

EPT Season 9 (2012-13)

By 2012, the EPT was beginning to focus on several core stops as part of the tour. This included Barcelona as the season-opener, Prague and the PCA straddling the turn of the year, and the Grand Final in Monte Carlo rounding out the year.

Steve O'Dwyer wins EPT Grand Final Main Event

Mikalai Pobal and Dimitar

Danchev won the first EPT titles for Belarus and Bulgaria respectively, while Steve O'Dwyer won the EPT Grand Final Main Event for €1.2m. This victory, along with several other major scores, puts him at the top of the EPT all-time money list with almost R$12.5 million in earnings.

EPT Season 10 (2013-14)

Season 10 of the European

Poker tour was a historic one, with Victoria Coren-Mitchell sensationally clinching victory at EPT Sanremo to become the first two-time EPT champion. Coren-Mitchell followed up her victory at EPT London in Season 3 with another victory, defeating Giacomo Fundaro heads-up to win €376,100.

Like in previous seasons, several EPT regulars finally got their hands on Main Event glory including Robin Ylitalo and Dominik Panka, with Sotirios Koutoupas becoming the first Greek EPT winner.

EPT Season 11 (2014-15)

Up until 2024, Spain had yet to win

an EPT Main Event. That all changed with the EPT Grand Final as Adrian Mateos secured victory just two years after winning the World Series of Poker Europe (WSOPE) Main Event at just 19 years old.

The EPT also visited Malta for the very first time, with Jean Montury securing victory. This was also the last time the EPT visited London and Deauville, which between them held 20 EPT festivals.

EPT Season 12 (2024-16)

The European Poker Tour returned to Dublin for the first time since Season 5, with young Polish phenom Dzmitry Urbanovich (pictured) clinching victory.

PokerStars Championship

In 2024, PokerStars announced it was to overhaul its live tournament schedule. As a result, the European Poker Tour was rebranded as the PokerStars Championship.

There were seven PokerStars Championship

festivals:

Bahamas

Panama

Macau

Monte Carlo

Sochi

Barcelona

Prague

The PokerStars

Championship was discontinued after one season, with the EPT brand returning once more.

EPT Season 14 (2024)

The EPT returned in 2024 with five stops including the first trip to Russia, with a visit to Casino Sochi. Arsenii Karmatchkii became only the fourth Russian to win an EPT title, before the tour returned to stops in Monte Carlo, Barcelona and Prague.

EPT Season 15 (2024)

Season 15 of the European Poker Tour was unusual, in that it held the same five stops as the previous year. This is the first time the tour had done this, and as a result it saw increased Main Event numbers in three of the five festivals.

That included the 2024 EPT Barcelona Main Event with a staggering 1,988 entries - almost as many entries as the inaugural EPT season attracted. The event was won by Sweden's Simon Brandstrom for almost €1.3 million.

Then, at EPT Prague, Mikalai Pobal became the second two-time winner on the EPT after defeating 1,154 players to win the EPT Prague Main Event.

EPT Season 16

(2024)

In 2024, there was only one live European Poker Tour festival held as a result of the coronavirus pandemic. Ruslan Bogdanov took down the EPT Sochi Main Event title for R$175,743 after a heads-up deal with Viktor Tkachenko.

EPT Season 18 (2024)

Following the coronavirus pandemic's end, EPT Season 18 resumed to normality, with five stops occurring throughout 2024. There were two stops in Prague, Czech Republic, and the tour returned to London, England, for the first time in eight years. The EPT also visited regular destinations, such as Monte Carlo and Barcelona.

The EPT returned with a bang, with several events breaking attendance and prize pool records throughout the year. The 2024 EPT Barcelona Main Event became the biggest of all time, with 2,294 entries recorded. Italy's Giuliano Bendinelli was the victor in that tournament and pocketed the €1,491,133 allocated for first place.
