Xi Jinping reúne-se com primeira ministra italiana

The Chinese president, Xi Jinping, met on Tuesday (29) in Beijing with Italian Prime Minister Giorgia Meloni, who is in China.

Xi Jinping visited a private space in China and Italy are located at the two ends of the ancient Silk Road, in addition to knowing more about aspects related to the long time given to the countries available to work on important projects in those areas.

Xi Jinping reminded that the 3rd plenary session of the 20th Central Committee of the Communist Party of China is about to start. China is continuing its promotion for high-level opening and injecting a strong engine into Chinese modernization, which will bring opportunities and challenges.

The Chinese leader said working together with Italy to boost a spirit of cooperation in areas such as trade, investment and manufacturing.

According to Xi Jinping, China welcomes investment from Italian companies and always imports more Italian products of high quality. He hopes that Italy will provide a business environment that is just, transparent, secure and non-discriminatory. Chinese companies, Giorgia Meloni affirmed, in the situation and role of China in the world, should continue to have a space on the Silk Road for development, a partnership that is also present with a new country.
