Argentine footballer

Hernán Barcos (Spanish pronunciation: [enam bakos];[a] born 11 April 1984) is an Argentine professional footballer who plays as a forward for Alianza Lima.

He is nicknamed El Pirata (The Pirate) and is well known for his finishing ability, technique and strength.

Club career [edit]

Early career [edit]

Barcos debuted professionally for Racing in August 2004.

He then went on to play on loan for Club Guaraní (Paraguay), Olmedo (Ecuador), Red Star Belgrade (Serbia), and Huracán (Argentina).

On 7 October 2007, Barcos scored his first Serbian SuperLiga goals by netting twice in the late minutes versus Banat Zrenjanin, helping Red Star to get three points.

He previously scored once in a Serbian Cup game against Teleoptik.

Chinese Super League [edit]

In February 2009, Barcos signed a year long loan with Chinese Super League side Shanghai Shenhua.

[1] However, after a disappointing half season at Shanghai, he was loaned out to Shenzhen Asia Travel, a fellow CSL club.

He scored the first hat-trick in his career in Shenzhen's 4–0 victory over Changchun Yatai on 16 September 2009.

He scored 14 goals in 14 league games with Shenzhen and won Chinese Football Association Golden Boot award in the end of the season.

LDU Quito [edit]

In early 2010, Barcos transferred to LDU Quito to reinforce the squad after their leading goalscorer transferred out.

He established himself as a capable striker for the squad, starting a five-game run where he scored one goal a game.

Barcos, or "El Pirata" as he was nicknamed by the Liga fans, scored two vital goals against Estudiantes de La Plata in LDU's 2–1 first-leg win, winning the 2010 Recopa Sudamericana.

Barcos' ended his illustrious 2010 season as Ecuadorian Serie A champion, having scored 22 league goals in 32 games, second best in the league, behind Jaime Ayoví who scored 23 goals. In the 2011 Ecuadorian Serie A season, Barcos scored 25 goals in 51 matches in all competitions.

On 13 August 2011, Barcos did what no other LDU Quito player had ever accomplished in any competition, he scored five goals in a single game against Manta.

Barcos would continue with his scoring ability, netting in seven goals in the 2011 Copa Sudamericana.

He scored an important away goal for LDU Quito in the team's first win ever in Buenos Aires in a 1–0 win against Vélez Sarsfield, thus reaching the Copa Sudamericana finals.

He failed to score a single goal in the finals against Universidad de Chile, and though only ended up as runner up in the competition, he and the rest of LDU Quito received support and appraisal from the club's fans.

After two amazing years with the club, he had many offers from wealthy clubs.

In January 2012, LDU Quito was offered $8 million from a Middle Eastern club to sign Barcos, while simultaneously also offered only $3.

5 million from Palmeiras.

Even though LDU Quito was suffering from debt, they honored Barcos' wishes to play for Palmeiras, and on 17 January 2012, he signed for the Brazilian team.

Palmeiras [edit]

On 17 January 2012, Barcos joined Brazilian Série A club Palmeiras for an undisclosed fee.

[2] He scored his first goal for the club on 11 February 2012, in a 3–0 victory against Ituano, in a Paulistão match.

[3] Barcos promised to achieve a total number of 27 goals in his first season with Palmeiras, thus showing a countdown of how many are left to go on his football shoes.

On 27 February 2012, football specialist Lédio Carmona compared Barcos to lobster, playing with coach Luiz Felipe Scolari who had said he wanted shrimp, meaning the quality of Palmeiras' signings for the new season.

[4] Barcos helped Palmeiras reach the 2012 Copa do Brasil finals by scoring four goals in eight cup games.

On 1 August 2012, Barcos scored a double in Palmeiras' debut in the Copa Sudamericana against Botafogo.

He scored another double against Botafogo again, this time in a league match a week later, winning 2–1.

Despite Palmeiras' relegation and interest of European clubs, Barcos via Twitter confirmed he would continue to play for club in 2013.

In his words: "I have the dream to play a World Cup, but the only way to leave Palmeiras is receiving a irrecusable deal, that the club cannot say 'no'.

I will stay in Palmeiras for love and for liking Palmeiras".[5]

Palmeiras confirmed Barcos would stay for the 2013 season, having been relegated to Serie B, though he was able to participate in the 2013 Copa Libertadores.

For Barcos, the fans of Palmeiras and Gilson Kleina's permanency on club were fundamental points to stay on the Verdão.[6]Grêmio [edit]

Barcos became Grêmio's shock-signing for the 2013 season, wanting to arm a strong side for the 2013 Copa Libertadores.

His debut came on 14 February, also scoring from the penalty spot, in a 2–1 home loss in a group-stage match up against Chilean Primera División side Huachipato.

In August 2014, he scored twice in a match against Corinthians, becoming the top foreign goalscorer for Grêmio with 36 goals.

Later career [edit]

On 16 February 2015, Barcos transferred to Chinese Super League side Tianjin Teda.

[7] After a prolific goalscoring season, he transferred to Portuguese side Sporting CP.

However, after a brief spell in Europe, the centre-forward returned to the Argentine Primera

División, joining Vélez Sarsfield.

Barcos debuted for Vélez in a 2–0 defeat to Gimnasia y Esgrima La Plata for the first fixture of the 2016–17 Argentine Primera División[8] and scored his first goal in a 2–1 victory against Colón for the 6th fixture.[9]

Return to LDU Quito [edit]

On 14 January 2017, LDU Quito announced the return of Barcos to the Ecuadorean capital.

He was to be incorporated to the team to complete the new squad for the 2017 campaign in time for La Noche Blanca, the derby game against Deportivo Cali.

[10] The loan deal will last until the end of 2017.

Bashundhara Kings [edit]

On 2 February 2020, Bangladesh Premier League defending champions Bashundhara Kings confirmed that Barcos will be part of the team for AFC Cup and the 2nd leg of the league.

[11][12]FC Messina [edit]

On 30 October 2020, Barcos was formally introduced as a new signing for Italian Serie D club FC Messina.

[13] He however left Messina on 23 December 2020, without making a single appearance, due to unsolved bureaucratic issues regarding his non-EU citizen status.[14]

International career [edit]

On 23 August 2012, Barcos was called up for the matches against Paraguay and Peru for the 2014 FIFA World Cup qualification[15] but he ended up being an unused substitute in them.

Instead, he made his national team debut on 19 September 2012, as a starter in a match against Brazil for the Superclásico de las Américas.

[16] In October 2012, Barcos also came on as a late substitute in World Cup qualifying matches against Uruguay and Chile.

Personal life [edit]

On 16 February 2012, after a comparison with Brazilian singer Zé Ramalho made by Léo Bianchi, journalist of Rede Globo, Barcos cursed the reporter, calling him "boludo", a popular scold in Argentina.[17]

Inglaterra aplasta a Nueva Zelanda en el Twenty20 femenino

Inglaterra anotó su puntaje más alto en Twenty20 en suelo inglés en seis años al marcar 197 por tres en Southampton el sábado, antes de limitar a Nueva Zelanda a 138 para ganar por 59 carreras.

Con tres meses para el Mundial Twenty20 en Bangladesh, este fue un siglo contundente de un lado de Inglaterra cuya confianza es altísima, aunque sea contra un equipo que probablemente no será un competidor en octubre, especialmente si batean como lo hicieron en Southampton.

Primero, Georgia Plimmer fue desafortunadamente eliminada por tercera vez en cuatro partidos, gracias a un tiro directo magnífico de Nat Sciver-Brunt en el ring. Luego vino el prototipo del colapso horrible: cinco wickets perdidos por cuatro carreras en el espacio de 14 bolas, incluida una over de tres wickets para Sarah Glenn.

Esta fue una persecución grande bajo presión, pero la toma de decisiones de los bateadores de Nueva Zelanda fue, sin embargo, cuestionable: Suzie Bates jugó sobre un intento de revés sweep, Maddy Green bajó la cabeza y perdió un tiro recto, mientras que los mejores bateadores de Nueva Zelanda, Amelia Kerr y Sophie Devine, ambos enviaron atrapadas a largo. Al final, Nueva Zelanda estaba en 64 por cinco y el resto fue solo forma.

Anteriormente, las abridores de Inglaterra, Danni Wyatt y Maia Bouchier, habían aplastado a los bateadores de Nueva Zelanda en una sobre de 52 carreras sin wickets, estableciendo la plataforma para el gran total de Inglaterra al aprovechar las ofertas anchas de Devine, Jess Kerr y Lea Tahuu.

Los jóvenes spinners de Nueva Zelanda, Eden Carson (22) y Fran Jonas (20), luego se vieron completamente fuera de su profundidad contra la calidad y la clase de Wyatt y Sciver-Brunt, mientras que Freya Kemp, promovida hacia arriba en el orden para batear en el No. 4, mantuvo la presión en los últimos sobre, enviando a Kerr sobre el límite para seis en su estilo usual sin esfuerzo.

Inglaterra limita a Nueva Zelanda a 138

El único ingreso de Nueva Zelanda vino cuando los bateadores de Inglaterra intentaban acelerar, Bouchier, Sciver-Brunt y Wyatt todos atrapados en el profundo tratando de golpes grandes, y aunque Tahuu negó a Wyatt un tercer siglo internacional de Twenty20 cuando se holgó en 76, el entrenador, Jon Lewis, estará satisfecho con el enfoque desinteresado de sus grandes bateadores y sus tasas de golpes más que saludables.

Heather Knight había construido expectativas con su reclamo en la víspera del juego de que Inglaterra intentaría cosas con un ojo en el Mundial, pero incluso así fue una sorpresa ver cuatro opciones de spin de primera línea en su XI, con Linsey Smith uniéndose al trío habitual de Sophie Ecclestone, Charlie Dean y Glenn. Todas fueron utilizadas dentro de las ocho primeras sobre, con niveles variables de giro y bote que ayudaron a contener la respuesta de Nueva Zelanda.

Freya Kemp regresa de una lesión

Fue el regreso de la todo terreno Kemp de una lesión, originalmente programada para batear en el No. 7 mientras brindaba una opción de swing, lo que facilitó este lujo. Lewis ha estado manteniendo los dedos y los dedos cruzados de que su joven protegido esté apto para lanzar este verano, ya que es una preparación vital para esa etapa crucial en Bangladesh.

Kemp hizo un regreso de cinco sobre para Southern Vipers contra Western Storm en Hove el fin de semana pasado, su primera entrada profesional desde la recurrencia de una fractura por estrés en la espalda en enero, y aunque claramente no está de vuelta a los niveles previos a la lesión de velocidad, el hecho de que pudo lanzar su asignación completa de cuatro sobre, tomando el scalp de Tahuhu en el proceso, fue un importante obstáculo superado, así como otra pieza del rompecabezas en su lugar para Inglaterra antes del Mundial.
