However, it's important to note that the house always has an edge in roulette, as with most casino games, to ensure that over time, the casino will make a profit. Outside of a poorly trained or bored dealer spinning the wheel and ball exactly the same, with exactly the same release, Roulette is random.

The player would tap one switch each time the ball completed a full spin, and the other switch each time the wheel spun. From that data, a small pocket computer could calculate the odds and let him know, via a tap on the leg, where he should place his bet. All in the small window of time before the ball stops spinning.

Roulette is one of the oldest casino games in the world and is also one of the most popular in both brick and mortar casinos and online casino sites across the world. While the online version of roulette uses computer software to mimic the look, feel and gameplay of traditional roulette, it still can't really compare with the real thing, that is, until now.

Live online roulette has taken the UK as well as the rest of the online world by storm in recent years, with the live roulette UK market being one of the largest. Live roulette, also known as live dealer roulette, combines the best of both worlds, giving you the safety and convenience of playing online, with the excitement and realism that can only be experienced in a real land-based casino.
