The popularity of Texas Hold'em, to say the least, has reached a new high in recent years. So much so that it is arguably the most popular online poker game at this time, so new and fun varieties of this traditional poker game are now entering the poker world. One among them happens to be double flop Texas Hold'em.

The rules and structure of double Flop Texas Hold'em are quite similar to standard Texas Hold'em, except there are more than 5 community cards in this game. In this post, we have covered everything there is to know about double-flop Texas Hold'em.

Double flop Texas

Hold'em is another variation of standard Hold'em wherein two sets of community cards are dealt separately on what is commonly known as the "upper board" and "lower board." While playing double flop Texas Hold'em online, the upper and lower board rules will be made available to you at the game's onset. The players, after that, can use the cards from either the whole upper board or the whole lower board to make their best 5-card hand combination. Other than this, double-flop Texas Hold'em game is more or less similar to standard Texas Hold'em in almost all other aspects.

Double-flop Texas

Hold'em rules are similar to standard Texas Hold'em, though with minor exceptions. Now, the rules for Texas Hold'em double flop are as follows:

1) The double flop Texas

Hold'em game is usually played using a standard deck of 52 cards.

2) In this game, each player is dealt two face-down cards, called hole cards.

3) Then, five community cards are dealt, face up - three at once, then another on both the upper and lower board separately.

4) All players in the game after that use the five community cards from either the upper or lower board in conjunction with their two-hole cards to make the best possible five-card poker hand (community cards + hole cards)

5) In the case of double flop Texas Hold'em, the player who makes the best 5-card hand using a combination of the hole cards and community cards generally wins the pot.

The

step-by-step procedure for playing double-flop Texas Hold'em is as follows:

At the beginning of double flop Texas Hold'em, two players are appointed as the small blind and big blind. Both players contribute pre-decided money to the pot before the cards are dealt. It is a matter of rather common knowledge that the small blind is usually half the big blind. For instance, if the small blind puts in R$5, the big blind has to put in a bet of R$10.

After every round of Texas Hold'em double flop, new players are assigned as the small blind and big blind, and thus, every player gets a chance to contribute a fair amount of money to the game. Once the blinds are placed, each player is assigned two cards, otherwise known as hole cards.

Once the hole cards are assigned, the first betting round in double-flop Texas Hold'em begins. In this round, the player designated as "under the gun" in standard poker language generally acts first. Now, this player usually has three options:

Call - To call is to make a bet equal to the amount of the big blind

Raise - To raise is to double the amount of the big blind

Fold

- To fold is to discard the cards and become ineligible for the current hand

The

betting after that moves on successively from one player to another, and all the players usually have the same options - call, raise or fold.

Once the first betting round ends, 3 community cards are dealt on both the upper and lower boards face up, and a player can use either the cards from the upper or lower board to make his best 5-card hand combination. However, always remember you cannot do a mix and match of cards from both boards. The second betting round will begin, and all the players can call, fold or raise again. The players in this round can also check, which means passing the action of betting to the player right next to the player currently betting.

Once the betting in the double flop round ends, one more card is dealt face-up on both the upper and lower boards. This card is commonly known as the "turn" card. Simply put, there are now 4 community cards each available on both the upper and lower boards for the players to make their best 5 card hand combination.

The betting round

will begin, and players can call, raise, check, or fold again. Assuming you are playing limit double flop Texas Hold'em, the amount of your initial bet will now be doubled for this round and the next. For instance - if the amount of the initial big blind was R$10, then now it will be R$20. After that, to call a person now has to bet only R$20; to raise, the amount will be R$40 for this and the next round.

Once the betting for the "turn" rounds ends, the fifth and final community card is dealt on both the upper and lower board face up. To summarize, there are 5 community cards each on both the upper and lower boards. The betting rules for the "River" round are broadly applied the same way as in the case of "flop" and "turn."

As soon as the "River" round ends. After that, all the players enter into a showdown. The showdown is the final round in double flop Texas Hold'em, and in this round, the player with the best 5-card hand combination (hole cards + community cards) generally wins the pot. The double flop Texas Hold'em is usually played in two distinct ways:

- 1) In the first case, the winners of both the upper and lower boards usually share the amount of the pot.
- 2) In the second case, one absolute winner is declared from both boards and gets the whole pot.

You might have realized by now that double-flop Texas Hold'em is quite similar to standard Texas Hold'em in more aspects than one. Thus, akin to Texas Hold'em, this game is not just fun to play and easy to learn but also offers the distinct advantage of being one of the easiest poker games to win.

Violentas tempestades dejan cinco muertos en Francia, Suiza e Italia

Furiosas tormentas y lluvias torrenciales que azotaron Francia, Suiza e Italia este fin de semana han dejado cinco personas muertas, según las autoridades locales.

Tres muertos en Francia

Tres personas mayores de 70 y 80 años murieron en la región noreste de Aube, en Francia, el sábado cuando un árbol aplastó el coche en el que viajaban durante fuertes vientos, según informó la autoridad local a la Agencia France-Presse. Otro pasajero se encontraba en estado crítico, agregó.

Dos muertos y uno desaparecido en Suiza

En Suiza, vecina de Francia, dos personas murieron y una tercera estaba desaparecida después de que fuertes lluvias desencadenaran un alud en el sureste, dijeron las autoridades de la región italofrancesa de Ticino.

Según el diario local La Regione, las víctimas eran dos mujeres que estaban de vacaciones en la región alpina.

Los servicios de emergencia estaban evaluando la mejor manera de evacuar a 300 personas que habían llegado para un torneo de fútbol en Peccia, mientras que casi 70 más estaban siendo evacuadas de un campamento de vacaciones en el pueblo de Mogno.

Cambio climático como factor

Los científicos afirman que el cambio climático impulsado por la actividad humana está aumentando la gravedad, la frecuencia y la duración de los eventos meteorológicos extremos como inundaciones y tormentas.

Rescate dificultoso

El mal tiempo dificultaba el trabajo de rescate, dijeron las autoridades anteriormente, con varios valles inaccesibles e interrumpidos en la red eléctrica.

El sistema de alerta federal también dijo que parte de la región no tenía agua potable.

Evacuaciones en Valais

En el cantón occidental de Valais, los servicios de seguridad civil dijeron que cientos de personas fueron evacuadas y se cerraron carreteras después de que el Ródano y sus afluentes se desbordaran en diferentes lugares.

Daños en el norte de Italia

Lluvias extremas también afectaron al sureste de Suiza la semana pasada, dejando una víctima y causando graves daños.

En el valle del norte de Italia de Aosta, los usuarios de internet compartieron imágenes de espectaculares inundaciones y ríos crecidos que bajaban por las laderas montañosas.
