named Slot House in a disused alley 6 in Peckham, south London.

Sandy and Sally Rendel designed and built the house to fit in the alley, which was almost 6 the exact size of a London Underground carriage, alongside their own home in Peckham.

"The major challenge was to tease spaces 6 that were both functional and delightful out of space that is no bigger than a tube carriage," said Sandy Rendel, 6 founder of Sandy Rendel Architects.

"To commit to the investment involved in developing it we wanted to be sure that the 6 house would not simply 'work' but actually be enjoyable to live in," he told Dezeen.

The architects designed the two-storey house 6 to make as efficient a use as possible of the narrow site, while creating a space that would be a 6 bright and pleasant place to live in.

To avoid placing any weight on the neighbouring buildings the house was constructed using 6 a prefabricated, lightweight steel frame, which was expressed internally to maximise the space. On the ground floor the house's main living 6 spaces are arranged linearly with the front door opening straight into the kitchen, the stairs in the centre and a 6 lounge at the rear of the home.

Light 6 is brought into the house through large windows at the front and rear of the property and a skylight above 6 the stairs.

"Bounded by two-storey flank walls on both sides the only opportunity to bring light in was through the narrow 6 front and rear faces and the roof," Sandy Rendel said.

"To maximise the light and increase the sense of space, the layout is as open as possible, 6 even including a small double-height space at the garden end linking the living room to the study mezzanine above."

Throughout the 6 house the architects combined the steel structure with exposed Douglas fir joists, spruce plywood walls and cork and terrazzo floors.

"We 6 wanted to use a robust economic palette of materials, but also ones that were able to add some richness to 6 the interior," said Sandy Rendel.

"The form and arrangement of spaces is very simple so the character of the house is 6 largely defined by these materials."

Although the site had planning permission for a three-storey house before Sandy and Sally Rendel purchased 6 it, the architects chose to build a smaller property to create a better place to live. "Adding another storey, which the 6 original planning permission had consent for, would have impacted on the layout, requiring a much more cellular arrangement because of 6 the more onerous fire regulations imposed on a three-storey house," explained Sandy Rendel. "I think developers would argue against the reduced 6 size that we pursued in pure financial terms, but we felt that ethically the tiny plot had a maximum capacity 6 of two people and should be enjoyed as such," he continued.

"Even without maximising its development potential in terms of pure 6 floor area and whilst targeting a higher quality than standard developer spec, we have still proved that it is financially 6 viable to build on such small, awkward brownfield sites."

London based Sandy Rendel Architects was founded by Sandy Rendel 2010. The 6 studio previously completed a riverside house in the south west of England with an upper storey clad entirely in weathering 6 steel mesh.
